Myrtle Lee was a former president of the Minneapolis Club of Zonta International. When she passed away her son donated money to the Minneapolis Club to start a scholarship fund in her name. Myrtle strongly supported single women with children who want to continue their post high school education. The members of the Minneapolis Club have continued to honor and respect Myrtle Lee's views regarding women's education.

The Myrtle Lee scholarship is designed to recognize women who display excellence in character and perseverance, personally and professionally. Scholarship winners must be accepted to, or be participating in, a post secondary program, while also being a parent, and maintaining employment. The scholarship winners will be selected by a review committee who will rate applications based on financial need, quality of written submissions, and overall personal and professional summary.
